

I am very dissappointed on how television programs have been allowed to get away with almost anything. Television is not family safe anymore, due to sexually explicit scenes, violent & boulgar language. I hope the FCC does follow through with fining them for incidents like the one during half time and the one with Madonna & Brittney.